Classroom Learning Technology Equipment (Devices)

1. Describe the devices you intend to purchase and their compatibility with existing or planned platforms or systems.

The Tilton school at the House of the Good Shepherd will be purchasing Smart Board replacements. Our last purchase of smart boards was in 2010. Since then we have maintained these boards however these boards are at end of life and the cost associated with maintenance is significant. Our intention is to replace the aging smart boards with current technology.

2. Describe how the proposed technology purchases will improve teaching and learning inside or outside of the classroom.

The use of the current Smart boards has been critical in the education of our students. The use of a multimedia format engages our students with disabilities and already disadvantaged, in a way that standard methods are unable. The use of this forward leaning technology will continue to improve student engagement which is essential for academic success and teaching excellence. Giving our students access and exposure to aspects of our modern society that they are not regularly provided otherwise, will allow our students to retain valuable information and develop a meaningful connection with a subject area when the lessons are brought to life through a multimedia approach. Ultimately, using these boards in a multimedia approach will result in higher student engagement, improve concentration and students will emotionally invest in their own learning, consequently improving learning outcomes for students with disabilities. The downtime we are experiencing with the aging boards frustrates both our teachers and our students. Many times we lose valuable contact time trying to remedy both software and hardware problems. We utilize the Smart Learning Suite in conjunction with the Smart board methodology. The continued use of contemporary hardware in this context provides the most immersive experience for our children. Current pedagogical practices across the state incorporate smart board technology with continually advancing applications that demand higher computing power from the hardware to process. If we are not able to keep our technology current our students will continue to be left behind.

3. To ensure the sustainability of technology purchases made with Smart Schools funds, schools must have a plan to maintain and support technology purchases reimbursed with Smart Schools funds. This sustainability plan should support recurring costs of use that are ineligible for Smart Schools funding such as device maintenance, technical support, Internet and wireless fees, maintenance of hotspots, staff professional development, building maintenance and the replacement of incidental items.

By checking this box, you certify that the school has a sustainability plan as described above.

4. Schools must ensure that devices purchased with Smart Schools funds will be distributed, prepared for use, maintained and supported appropriately. Schools must maintain detailed device inventories in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

By checking this box, you certify that the school has a distribution and inventory management plan and system in place.

5. Schools must contact the SUNY/CUNY teacher preparation program that supplies the largest number of its new teachers to request advice on innovative uses and best practices at the intersection of pedagogy and educational technology.
